

The Three Emotions: Passion, Aggression and Indifference

- Directions: 1) Put a star next to any words that are attractive to you as a subject for writing.
2) Put an X next to any subjects that repels you or makes you angry as a subject for writing.
3) Put a Z next to any words that you are indifferent to as subjects for writing.

beards	gold	alabaster
slacks	steel	antler
bus drivers	brows	chandeliers delicatessens	buffalo	East diapers	snake	blue
dice	fist	French fabric stores	lieutenant	dogs kindergarten	brown	apologies fossil	knee	kiss
henna	supplicant	alley lefties	effort	deference libraries	jar	frontier
Montreal	carapace	island shrubbery	abode	wedding motel	pebble	dance
dentist	horse	bald
pine trees	coifs	Shakespeare Rousseau	hostess	rake shopping	pagoda	curtain spiders	chocolate	scaffolding elderly people	ravage	snow the FBI	ham	bullet
violin	crackers	darkness rowboat	stairs	chainsaw winter	hive	clay
plover	liquor	acre
hawk	rectitude	uncertainty dying	puppy	coil
chalk	Lincoln	gravity cream	Prussia	erudition soldier	derby	salt

Assignment 1: Choose a word you put an X next to and write about it with real passion.

Assignment 2 : Pick an attractive word and write about it indifferently.

Assignment 3 : Choose a word you are indifferent about and write about it with real anger